ALUMNI COUNCIL HOLDS MEETING

The first authorized Council Meeting of the Juniata College Alumni Association was called to order by the Vice President, Henry Gibbel, '26, of Lititz, Pa., in the College dining hall on Friday evening, October 30, 1936 at 7:00 o'clock, and the invocation was pronounced by Dr. Galen B. Royer, '83, of Huntingdon, Pa.

College songs were led by Raymond Ellis, '15, of Norristown, Pa. Mr. Gibbel made a few very appropriate remarks after which President C. C. Ellis brought a message of greeting to all present. He also expressed appreciation that the Alumni Secretary was able to return to his duties following several months of confinement from an auto accident, and introduced his assistant, Harold B. Brumbaugh, '33, who responded with a few remarks.

Among the many items included in the report of the Alumni Secretary, were found that the Alumni Fund is being built on the predication that the Local Association Representatives and the Class Representatives are the Fund incarnate; that through the efforts of the president of the association, Myers B. Horner, '13, of Washington, Pennsylvania, the Executive Committee, and a few class representatives, the Alumni Secretary is able to report that the high mark of active membership during the Golden Anniversary year had been surpassed by four members; and that the goal for the year of 1936-37 shall be "Excelsior." It also included a note of optimism for the present year which needs to be made known to every Juniatian whether a graduate or a non-graduate of the institution.

A recommendation from the Philadelphia Alumni Association to revise the disbursement of the alumni funds was referred to a Committee of three, who in conjunction with the Executive Committee are to submit a report to the annual meeting of the association in June. There were more than forty in attendance at the Dinner which was concluded by a few brief remarks and the benediction by Dr. I. Harvey Brumbaugh, '86, of Huntingdon, Pa.

JUNIATA COLLEGE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION FUND

A comparison of 1933, 1934, 1935, and 1936

How high will you help to push the mercury by June 15, 1937?

The number of contributors January 20, 1937 is 337 as compared with 301 a year ago at the same date. The amount contributed exceeds that of a year ago at the same date. The number of givers (2900) mentioned above includes all graduates and active former students, other former students becoming active will increase the number.

WATCH—HELP OUR FUND GROW! We are off on a good start, help us to finish strong. HAVE YOU DONE YOUR PART? If not, send your check now to your Class Representative or the Alumni Secretary. While $2.50 for one and $4.00 for two in the same household, is the minimum required for Active Membership, don't neglect to give something, even if you can't afford to give the minimum. There are some funds available from special friends of the college to give you active membership providing you do something yourself.

It is not the amount that matters, but that each alumnus, graduate and non-graduate, gives something. HELP TO MAKE JUNIATA AN ALUMNI COLLEGE.

THE PRESIDENT SPEAKS

a number of men's dormitories prior to the new residence halls for men.

The gymnasium and athletic field are a substantial contribution to the provision which the College has made for the physical welfare of the students. Improvements, however, are essential for the field; and the gymnasium, which must serve as public auditorium and place of constant music and dramatic rehearsal, is in demand beyond its capacity both as to size and time allotment.

The Library, built in 1907, has since been enlarged in capacity by additional steel stacks, but one can almost see its walls bulging in the need for additional space despite the fact that Dr. T. T. Myers' long-time class room has been converted into a science library.

Science Hall also, devoted to chemistry, biology, and physics, as well as the home economics cooking laboratory, is every inch occupied, basement and attic included; so that here again is suggestion of need for expansion. Indeed, only this summer were the offices of the chemistry department transformed into additional laboratories. It is doubtful whether this building in the quality and quantity of equipment in a given space can be duplicated on any other college campus.

The latest addition to the campus group of buildings is the dormitory for men, known as the Cloister. This building, erected in 1928, is not only modern in its appointments but is unique in imitation of the Pennsylvania German Colonial architecture.

These buildings, together with a number of others less pretentious in size, constitute a college plant which in recent years has not only been used to the full, but has at times proved inadequate to our needs. Not only the growth of the student group but the increase of curricula and faculty have contributed to the need for more room. Aside from the fact that some of our buildings, like Science Hall and the Library, are overcrowded, there is the additional fact that the chapel has not met our daily needs for a number of years, and the fact also that in order to find sufficient class room space it has been necessary to make available such room as could be utilized in the basement of Students Hall.

It is a matter of common knowledge that for six years we have been awaiting the erection of a music

SOME of us remember when the College plant consisted of one building set in the midst of a plot of ground surrounded by a wooden fence. Indeed there is an earlier picture than this of a small building on Washington Street; and further back, the two rooms provided by Elder H. B. Brumbaugh in which the institution began in 1876 with one teacher and three students.

The first building on the present site, Founders Hall, was built in 1878. It furnished dormitories, classrooms, dining hall, library, and chapel for a hundred or more students of the Brethren Normal College.

Later, Ladies Hall, more recently called Brumbaugh Hall, was built and joined to the original building by a transept. This same plan was followed when Oneida Hall was attached to Ladies Hall. Oneida Hall in addition to dormitories furnished a new dining room which has served well this purpose ever since. The necessary effort to remedy a structural defect in this building during the past summer made it convenient to reconstruct the ceiling of the dining room and it has now become, with its oak-covered steel beams and uprights, and its acousti-celotex ceiling, one of the really attractive parts of the college plant.

Students Hall, now devoted to instructional purposes almost entirely, was erected before Oneida Hall, and in its time has housed the library, whose stack room was the adjoining section now allotted to the business department. The third floor also provided building, which was to be made available through the generosity of the Presser Foundation and the equal generosity of the friends of Juniata. The fact that the postponement by the Presser Foundation is due to their desire to help indigent musicians has not lessened our continued need for the building, and the postponement itself has proved an additional disadvantage to us in ways unforeseen.

Our greatest building need seems to resolve itself into an auditorium-music building. There is no auditorium on the campus suitable in size or equipment for our largest gatherings as things are, to say nothing of the further fact that some of our friends remain away at times fearing a lack of accommodations. While the music department is not without definitely assigned quarters, it is well known that they are not well adapted to their purpose, and both the chapel and Room C are at present being used for some of the music instruction.

One of our not too distant needs is for an administration building which will house all the college offices including more teachers' conference rooms and provision for student offices such as are needed by the Alfarata and Juniatian. This can be provided by reconstruction of one of the residences already owned by the College, if perchance other provision is not available.

Our alumni well know the makeshift provision for a social room with which we have had to be content for so many years. "Room C," at best a semi-classroom during the day, and a semi-social room during the evening, was truly neither one nor the other. And yet there was a day when the line-up in the corridor of Founders Hall indicated that even this provision was yet future. It is easy to appreciate the enthusiasm of the alumni for the new social rooms in Brumbaugh Hall, which have replaced the reception room and the Blue Room and incorporated as a foyer the space of the removed stairway. But it may be well for those who enjoy them as well as all who appreciate them to know that the considerable expenditure which was necessary to provide these rooms was made possible not by any gift, but by the willingness of the trustees to incur a debt to provide that which other generations of students greatly desired and would have deeply appreciated.

The renovations which have now transformed the dormitories of Oneida Hall are suggestive of course of similar improvements needed on Brumbaugh Hall and on Founders Hall and it is to be hoped that the not too distant future may see this accomplished.

Thus it is easy to indicate, in no visionary way at all, college needs in the building line which will commend themselves to every one who knows the situation on College Hill. In the picture of the future it is not difficult to find a place for an additional gymnasium, an enlarged dining hall, a new unit to the Cloister, a home economics building, in addition to minor adjustments needed to round out a completely satisfactory sketch.

Insistent, however, as may be the needs of the physical plant it is doubtful if they are more so than the need for adequate endowment. In the first place it is recognized today that no institution can afford a new building unless it has at the same time endowment for its up-keep. Every new building makes its own demand for maintenance, and without this it could not be properly utilized in the total program.

Beyond this, however, and more important, is the fact that since no student ever pays the entire cost of his education, a certain amount of endowment is necessary behind each student who registers. This is even more true when the student needs scholarship or other aid in order that he may register. Friends of the College have been recognizing this and gradually a series of scholarship endowments is being built by which worthy young people are helped to continue their education. It is not the ambition of the College to become the largest institution possible. Our goal is a limited enrollment of selected students, but the endowment is not yet adequate to care for the number for which we have planned. It not infrequently happens that students excellent both in character and in scholarship are unable to go forward without help of some sort; and those who endow college scholarships are rendering a service not only to the student and the college, but to a better future as well.

Another need of the institution is endowed professorships. The first and only professorship of this sort was established a number of years ago by Mrs. Mary S. Geiger of Philadelphia. She endowed the chair of New Testament Literature and Exegesis, held for a number of years by her beloved pastor, Dr. T. T. Myers. But this endowment became inadequate for the full support of a professorship even before the death of Doctor Myers. A start has been made by friends of the College toward the endowment of a chair of education in memory of the late President Martin Grove Brumbaugh and undoubtedly other endowments of this sort will in the future build a permanency behind many of the professorships of the College.

The early growth of the College was necessarily slow and its development was dictated, as is always the case to some extent, by immediate and pressing needs. Latterly there was more thoughtful planning, though the down-to-date needs indicate that after sixty years of service the institution is still alert and growing, as it continues to chart its course toward the goal of the founders—a Christian education for young people who need it and are worthy of it.

TRUSTEES CHOOSE PRESIDENT AND NEW MEMBERS

In seven months of 1936 four trustees died, creating a loss doubtless unparalleled in Juniata's sixty-one years. N. Charles Graybill, New Windsor, Md., passed away on March 11; J. Mervin Fogelsanger, the vice-president, Philadelphia, on March 12; Joseph J. Oller, the president, Waynesboro, on September 3; and William Gahagen, Windber, on October 3. To replace the four deceased members as well as the late president the executive body held important elections at its meeting in October.

DR. GAIVUS M. BRUMBAUGH '79NE, '98MS, '26LittD, 905 Massachusetts Ave., N. W., Washington, D. C., the new board president, was one of the three students who sat at the feet of Professor Zuck when Juniata began in a nine by twelve room on April 17, 1876. His father was Dr. Andrew B. Brumbaugh, a co-founder of the fledgling institution. After completing his work at "The Brethren's Normal School and Collegiate Institute" with the first graduating class, he studied medicine and later built a practice in that profession that won him membership on the Board of U. S. Pension Examining Surgeons. Besides his medical duties Dr. Brumbaugh has maintained for many years a lively and distinguished interest in genealogy. He is editor of the Genealogical Society Quarterly and has published volumes of research too numerous to list here. The last of these is Revolutionary War Records, Volume I, an 88-page index of hitherto inaccessible records. In keeping with his interest in genealogy he holds membership in the Pennsylvania German Society and the Columbia Historical Society.

DR. JOHN S. NOFFSINGER, 3635 Ordway St., N. W., Washington, D. C., one of the newly-elected members of the board, is an educator and minister of eminent experience. A native of Dayton, Ohio, he studied at Bethany Biblical Seminary, received his bachelor's degree from Mt. Morris College, Illinois, his master's from the University of Chicago, and his Ph.D. from Columbia. For several years he was a superintendent of schools in the Philippine Islands and in the State of Illinois and later was chosen president of his alma mater, Mt. Morris. Following the pastorate of the Brooklyn Church of the Brethren, Dr. Noffsinger was supervisor and inspector of schools in New York, New Jersey, and Connecticut for the Federal Board of Vocational Education. During the last ten years he has been executive director of the National Home Study Council. He is the father of Mrs. Pauline (Noffsinger) Joliat '33AB, Juniata's May Queen in her senior year.

WILLIAM S. PRICE '84NE, 302 Walnut St., Royersford, is treasurer of the Public Ledger Company, Philadelphia, publishers of one of Pennsylvania's foremost newspapers. For many years Mr. Price has been a prominent member of the Royersford Church of the Brethren and of various church boards of the Southeastern District.

PHILIP R. MARKLEY '00Bus, Ardmore and Pleasant Aves., Chestnut Hill, Philadelphia, is engaged in the wholesale grain business. He is a member of the Chicago Board of Trade, the Grain Dealers' National Association, and of the Commercial Exchange of Philadelphia, being treasurer of the latter organization.

J. CALVIN BOWMAN, 325 Highland Ave., Johnstown, had been, until his retirement in June, 1934, supervising principal of the elementary schools of Crafton for twenty-four years. Teaching experience prior to that time had been in the schools of Somerset County and Fayette City. When he retired, the local newspaper praised Professor Bowman: "Mr. Bowman is not only a leader as a grade school educator, but a Christian gentleman, the value of whose influence as a moral factor in this community cannot be estimated." On February 5, in company with his pastor, Rev. John D. Ellis '28AB, he embarked on the Berengaria for a tour around the world.

AROUND THE CAMPUS

The Church Comes to College

Known to be in the habit of examining, Juniata was itself examined on October 21 and 22 by the Church of the Brethren in the person of a committee appointed by the General Education Board of the denomination, of which President Ellis is the chairman. The visitors were President Paul H. Bowman '25DD, of Bridgewater College and moderator-elect of the Church; Dr. J. I. Baugher, superintendent of schools, Hershey, and secretary of the Board; and Rev. M. R. Zigler, secretary of the General Ministerial Board of the Church. During their visit the committee spoke to the student body, met with the faculty, and conferred with the trustees, whose scheduled fall meeting came on the second day of their visit.

The purpose of the deputation was to make vocal to the College the teaching of the church in relation to higher education and to make what suggestions it could on Juniata's program and equipment. All the colleges of the sect were to be visited, and President Ellis later replaced President Bowman for a visit to Manchester.

On Juniata's Public Events Platform

The deft satire of George Bernard Shaw and the delicately beautiful music of harps have shared places on the public events program of Juniata so far this year. First on the lyceum series this season was a concert by two harpists and a 'cellist from the Curtis Institute, Philadelphia, on the evening of alumni homecoming, October 31. The Masquers chose Shaw's "Candida" for their first semester play on November 18. Miss Virginia Beach, a senior, played the title rôle.

On November 7 Miss Juanita Bauer appeared as solo actress in a series of dramatic scenes from American life. George E. Sokolsky, eminent writer, lecturer, and observer, spoke on January 21 on one of the most timely topics of the day, social security.

Other attractions yet to be presented are: The Stradivarius Quartet, of New York, February 15; Judith, Countess of Listowel, lecturer, March 16; and Carl Sandburg, April 7.

Something Old in Something New

When Christmas mail brings notes from publishing houses announcing unsolicited gifts to the College Library in the form of magazine subscriptions for the current year, when Christmas holidays accumulate boxes of books, again unsolicited gifts to the Library, there is evidence indeed that outside the limits of the College campus exist friends who are sufficient lovers of books and reading to keep that interest stimulated in students on today's campus.

Such friends have gathered around other institutions in definite organization, constituting themselves voluntary discoverers of complementary material for the library shelves as well as builders of special collections. They make the library strong in those fields where the ravages of economic depression bring drastic cuts, or where departmental needs for the regular curricula do not extend. Organization is merely the bringing together of those friends in a concerted effort to build as strong and complete a library of living books as possible.

There is a movement under way at the present time for such an organization of the Friends of the Juniata College Library, whose membership is contingent solely upon genuine interest in reading and the love of good books.

Monastic Hymns Sung Again

Hymns once sung by the monastics of the Ephrata Cloisters and the Snowhill Nunnery, near Waynesboro, are included in the repertory of the Juniata College Choir, whose concert season began on Sunday afternoon, January 17, at the Birmingham School for Girls. The repertory also contains church music from many lands and many ages, all of which is sung a cappella.

On Sunday, January 31, the Choir left for a week's tour through southern Pennsylvania and Maryland. McConnellsburg, Waynesboro, Hanover, York; Westminster, Md.; Baltimore, Md.; Washington, D. C.; Frederick, Md.; Broad Fording, Md., and Hagerstown, Md., were the places on the itinerary. The program was to be radioed from WBAL, Baltimore, on Wednesday afternoon, February 3, at 2:30 o'clock.

Speaking of the Weather

Not even the weather is immune from the probing hands of Juniata students, eighty of whom are working on financial aid projects under the National Youth Administration. In the most extraordinary project on this year's program ten students are making a detailed analysis of daily weather data covering the last forty to forty-five years. The results, averaged into fifteen-day periods, will aid the Allegheny Forest Experiment station in its study of tree species and its program of reforestation in this area of Pennsylvania.

The scope of projects ranges from additional clerical and stenographic service and outside labor help to such scientific projects as articulating cat skeletons for biology classes and the weather study outlined above. Wages vary between thirty and fifty cents an hour.

HAIL AND FAREWELL

To Coach Swartz's call for candidates several weeks before the holidays six wearers of the "J" and about a dozen other cagers responded as the Indians launched their new basketball season. Chief worry to the Juniata mentor in the early days of the practice period was to ferret out three men strong enough to fill in the places depleted by last year's graduation of Captain Merl Garner, of Huntingdon, at guard; Pat Renninger, the Pennsburg flash, at forward; and "Iron Man" Bill Scott, now of Mahaffey, also at guard.

There was reason to rejoice, nevertheless, in the caliber of material which the coach had to mold an aggressive court quintet. For pivot position he had two giant veterans: Alfred Pelka, who during his senior year at Philipsburg High in 1934-35 rated high scorer in the Mountain High School League; and Bruce Isaacson, of Ridgway, the only senior letterman remaining from last year.

Besides these the crop of candidates included Phil Hahn, of Sewickley, rapidly becoming Juniata's new "Iron Man of Athletics"; and George Weaver, fast-stepping defensive product of Huntingdon High. There was also a flashy quartet of sophomores, destined to see much action before the season ends: Bob Longwell, of Tyrone; Bob Schock, local boy; Dan Geiser, of Waynesboro; and Ken Fickes, of Altoona, all of whom were varsity men last year. From this group Hahn was selected captain for the 1936-37 season.

Up from Coach Mike Snider's frosh outfit of last year were Bob Rose, of Somerset; Walter Rumberger, formerly a star at Mount Union; and Bill Kibler, of Altoona. Not to be overlooked are three newcomers headed for varsity berths: Gerald Groninger, of Port Royal; Harold Barron, of Somerset; and Hugh Garner, who learned his basketball at Rockwood High School.

Meanwhile Coach Snider has been tutoring a group of twenty-five of this year's freshman huskies, some of whom may break into the varsity, though that is not likely. This aggregation will meet some first rate high schools in this section of the state in the hope that it can equal or break last year's record of ten victories, including a nine-game winning streak, and three defeats. To date it has lost to Altoona High and won from Milroy, Morrison's Cove and Coalport.

And here is the roster of varsity games for this year:

January 13—Bridgewater, at Bridgewater, Va. (won, 36-26)
 January 15—Elizabethtown, away (won, 48-27)
 January 16—Moravian, at home (lost, 24-37)
 January 23—St. Vincent, at home (lost, 29-52)
 January 30—Mt. St. Mary's, at home
 February 2—St. Joseph's, at Philadelphia
 February 3—Drexel, at Philadelphia
 February 5—W. & J., at home
 February 9—St. Vincent, at Latrobe
 February 12—Upsala, at home
 February 19—Elizabethtown, at home
 February 24—Bucknell, at Lewisburg
 March 3—Bucknell, at home
 March 10—Alumni, at home

PHIL HAHN

A few weeks before the campus said hail to basketball, it had said farewell to football, farewell to the most successful football season, in terms of victories, since 1931. When the Indians hung-up their moleskins and doffed their war paint in the locker rooms at East Orange, N. J., they closed a season which had netted them four victories and four losses.

That game at East Orange, with Upsala, also marked the end of undergraduate football for two Juniata stalwarts, one being Captain Paul Friend, of Acosta, Somerset County, the other Lloyd ("Plug") Seiders, of Elizabethtown. For dependability, fight, and iron-muscled stamina these men have never been excelled in Juniata's football history. One has only to recall how they helped spoil the fun for the Gettysburg fans for an example of the inspirational play of which they were capable.

The Upsala game will be remembered for another reason. Making the only Juniata touchdown of the game and the last for the season, Bob Jenkins, of Defiance, zoomed to thirteenth place among individual scorers of the East, according to a survey by the New York Times, ahead of such men as Goldberg of Pitt, Meyer of Army, and many other backs of All-American caliber. During the season he made eight touchdowns, a total of forty-eight points; and in almost every game he made spectacular gains.

With but two weeks of pre-season practice behind them, the Juniataians snared victories from Gettysburg, 6-2; Grove City, 12-7; Bridgewater, 25-0; and Allegheny, 20-8; and lost to Drexel, 7-34; Lebanon Valley, 0-18; Moravian, 0-25; and Upsala, 6-13.

Rev. G. N. Falkenstein is residing with his daughter near Harrisburg. Dr. and Mrs. John F. Mentzer, of Ephrata, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on October 19, 1936. After spending the year 1878-79 as a student at Juniata, Dr. Mentzer went to Jefferson Medical College, where he received his M.D. degree in 1882. Then he began his practice at Lincoln, Pa., moving a year later to Ephrata, where he has been ever since. FROM THE ALUMNI PRESIDENT'S DESK

DEAR ALUMNI:

In a recent essay entitled "Why Don't Graduates Stay Educated," by Christian Gauss, the following statements are made: "College graduates are the pets of the American public. They enjoy a higher degree of social prestige than any other group. They look as though they had something, but have they really, and for all the country gives them, what do they give in return?"

Warden Lawes of Sing Sing has gathered data to prove to us that there is "an inverse correlation between crime and education," which means in the language of the street that the alumni of a college have a right to claim as a class that they stay within the law. And then we were told that a college education would be worth increased income to us. "Come to college and you will make more money," was a frequent plea used by college solicitors and even published in college literature. But if our college education is only a means of keeping us out of the hands of the law or as a means of making more money, truly we have not been educated.

Seriously it is well to ask ourselves the question, "What am I giving in return for my years of college training?" Perhaps we were never educated at all, if by that phrase we mean that we were trained either to devote ourselves seriously to any democratic ideal of deeper devotion to the public interest.

Our alma mater has inculcated in us a deep sense of our personal responsibility and has made a serious effort to humanize us keeping constantly at the focal point of training a life of sacrifice for ideas and ideals. With this training we should return a due share of honor, reward, and due appreciation to our college and encourage her, support her, and sustain her in every one of her striving efforts to advance the cause of Christian education.

The best wishes of the officers of your association for the best and most prosperous year of your life are extended to you. Let us make it a good year at the old college home.

Sincerely yours,
MEYERS B. HORNER '13AB.

NECROLOGY

Juniatians extend their sympathy to the friends of the following deceased members of the Juniata family:

ROBERT LEWIS HIMES '88NE died suddenly of a heart attack at the age of 67 in his home at Baton Rouge, Louisiana, on October 21. He worked in Louisiana since 1889, starting in the public schools, then in the state normal school, and next in the state university as professor and later as general manager. In 1931 he was appointed state manager of the state penitentiary by Governor Huey P. Long. A vast improvement was seen under his management, since the year before he was manager it cost the state a half million dollars to run the institution, but under his management it yielded a profit to the state. He was a member of the Church of the Brethren since February 3, 1888, but was connected with the First Methodist Church where he lived. He was married to Miss Laura Black of Huntingdon on September 9, 1890, by Dr. W. J. Swigart, who had also baptized him previously. He is survived by his wife, one son, Lee, an attorney at Baton Rouge, and one daughter, Katharine Culum, of Nashville, Tennessee.

REV. EDWARD M. HOWE 90NE, minister of the Church of the Brethren for thirty-two years, died at his home at Maitland on November 19 at the age of 67, following a paralytic stroke which came two weeks before. He was a teacher most of his life. He is survived by his wife, Della Greninger, five sons, and two daughters. All but the two youngest children have attended Juniata College in the past years. Four of his sons are public school and college teachers.

MRS. VIOLA (STEINBERGER) ORT '87Ex, wife of the late Orville Ort, died at the age of 69 at her home at Centralia, Washington, on January 14, 1936. She is survived by one son and two daughters. Her husband preceded her in death eight years previously.

WOMEN'S LEAGUE

WAYNESBORO

Nine years ago next April, at the suggestion of the late President Martin G. Brumbaugh, Miss Bessie Rohrer '97NE, of Waynesboro, called to her home a number of Juniata women and friends to create the first Women's League of Juniata College. In the years since then the Waynesboro League has become familiar to almost the entire College family through the contributions it has made in funds and interest, the last of which was the pledging of a sum of money for the new social rooms in Brumbaugh Hall.

For several years, in fact until December, 1932, the Waynesboro League was the only group of its kind. Then the Huntingdon branch was formed, and within the last two months three other local chapters have been organized (see below), chiefly through the efforts of the Huntingdon chapter officers. The purpose of the League is to bring together women friends and former students of Juniata to generate active interest in the College. Eventually, it is hoped, all the local branches and others later to be formed will unify their activity around one central organization, and in that way make their work more effective.

HUNTINGDON

Though not the oldest, the Huntingdon chapter has the distinction of being the largest, its membership roster carrying more than a hundred names. Since its beginning this branch has, among other things, furnished the College dining hall with pewter pitchers, equipped the infirmary with two hospital beds, trays, and bed linens, beautified the halls of the women's dormitories, and provided funds for refurbishing and redecorating a room on Oneida Hall.

ALTOONA

An original membership of twenty-three has been reported by the Altoona chapter, which was organized on November 18, 1936, in the Twenty-eighth Street Church of the Brethren. The officers of this new branch are:

President—Miss Martha Mentzer '23AB
Secretary—Miss Marian V. Bartle '31AB
Treasurer—Miss Hazel V. Crist '28BS
Chairman of Membership—Mrs. John Dillon
Chairman of Program—Mrs. Marjorie (Swigart) Sheffer '29BS

JOHNSTOWN

Howard Keiper '24AB, pastor of the Morrellville Church of the Brethren; Miss Lillian D. Harbaugh '31AB, assistant librarian at the College; and Mrs. Lucinda (Miller) Mays '33AB, corresponding secretary of the Huntingdon chapter.

At an organization meeting held previously at the Hower home in Southmont the following officers were chosen:

“I went to Juniata”

Snatched from a Juniatian's conversation, these words assert the belief he has in his college.

They are a confident assertion, because behind them is the vision of a college with a purpose--a purpose supported by devoted servants and loyal patrons.

This is what you mean when you say,
“I went to Juniata”
